

National Fitness Campaign Awards City of Wabash $30,000 to Make Fitness Free for Everyone

Community Partners Make Outdoor Fitness Court Possible

Wabash, Ind. —May 3rd, 2019—National Fitness Campaign (NFC) has awarded $30,000 to the City of Wabash as part of its annual grant program in the 2019 Healthy Cities Campaign.

The NFC grant program is designed to activate public spaces by connecting trails, well-placed pedestrian infrastructure and community meeting points with a central outdoor gym facility — The Fitness Court® — that brings free, world-class fitness to everyone.

The Fitness Court® is a state-of-the-art, digitally connected platform for adults of all ages and abilities to develop healthy habits and maintain long-term wellness. Red Bull ranked The Fitness Court® one of the best gyms in the world, and now one is coming to the Wabash River Greenway!

“The installation of the Fitness Court in the City of Wabash continues my vision for our community to become a healthier place to live. Our trails, parks, and recreational facilities already provide ample opportunity for our citizens and visitors to remain fit and I believe the Fitness Court will be an asset that can be used to supplement that fitness.” said Mayor Scott Long

Local sponsors and donors to this initiative could see themselves recognized on the Fitness Court, as well as in regional promotions, on the free mobile Fitness Court App, and in a fun-filled launch event later this year.

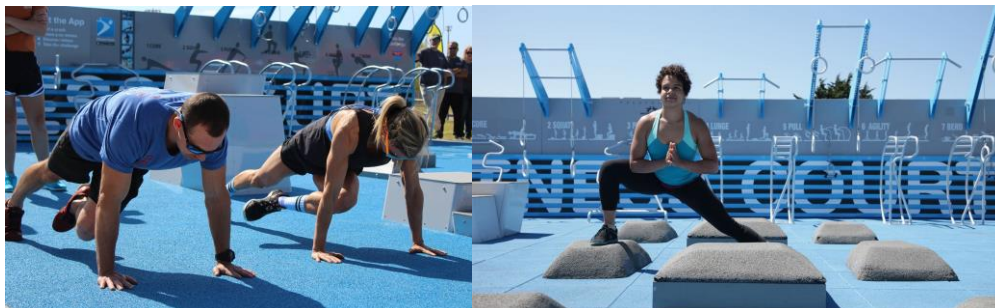

Residents can download the free app now on iOS and Android to see all the ways their new Fitness Court can support outdoor functional fitness activities.

Some sponsorship opportunities for the program are still available, and city officials look forward to connecting with organizations eager to support this exciting health initiative.
